

Monday, 1 December

Please pray for the team that serves the youth in Kazakhstan. Every week they minister to non-believing young people and those facing difficulties. They hold regular meetings where they read God's Word together and share the gospel. New young people come every week — please pray for the work with them, as well as for the organization and for new team members who are beginning to serve.

Tuesday, 2 December

Please pray for a young woman named Snezhana from Kazakhstan. She actively attends youth meetings. She faces some family problems and life challenges. Once, she shared her personal struggles with one of the team members. After hearing her story, he decided to share his own experience with faith and the church. Snezhana has planned to visit the church several times, but due to various circumstances, she hasn't been able to. We kindly ask you to pray for Snezhana. May the Lord bless her and open the way for her to come to Him.

Wednesday, 3 December

Please pray for the listeners in southern Kazakhstan. At the end of November, there was a missionary trip to the city of Shymkent, located in the south of Kazakhstan. Many people from this region listen to our programs, and are hearing the Good News. The team went there in person to speak with the local people, many of whom live according to pagan traditions. Many Bibles were given out. Please pray that they may come to know the living God.

Thursday, 4 December

In many Eurasian countries, Christmas is celebrated from December through early January. Even in Muslim-majority regions, hearts are open to hearing about Christ's birth. Pray that millions will discover who Jesus is and why He came. Your prayers truly make a difference.

Friday, 5 December

Pray for the leaders of FEBC-Eurasia's eight countries as they make key strategic decisions. FEBC reaches millions with modest resources. Ask God to help them remain faithful to this spirit of efficiency and effectiveness as the ministry continues to grow.

Saturday, 6 December

Pray for our hidden teams in Tajikistan and Turkmenistan. Thousands are hearing the Gospel through platforms we cannot name. Our workers risk their freedom every day—pray for their protection, courage, and fruitfulness, especially during this season when doors open a little wider.

Sunday, 7 December

Pray for FEBC–Eurasia’s Christmas media campaign, which aims to reach 120 million men, women, and children. Ask God to open hearts to Jesus and bring many to saving faith in Him.

Monday, 8 December

Please pray for Uzbekistan. The country is currently ranked second in the world for air pollution levels. Many people are beginning to experience health problems. We also ask you to pray for the health of the team that is serving there, and for the health of Umida, that God would help and strengthen her.

Tuesday, 9 December

Please pray for our listeners in Uzbekistan. The resistance is strong, but God is working in wonderful ways through our team. Many people are asking about God and seeking the Truth. May God move powerfully in this Muslim country and bring about a spiritual awakening.

Wednesday, 10 December

Please pray for the FEBC-Ukraine team to have electricity and heat this winter, both at home and in the studio, so that they can continue to share the Good News. Please pray that Ukraine’s critical infrastructure would not be damaged by Russian attacks.

Thursday, 11 December

Please pray for all our listeners in Ukraine who are serving in the military and risk their lives every day. That they would come to know the Lord and that they would return home safe and unharmed.

Ihor Sereda, Inna Tsaruk, and Max Shargaev (Max is serving as a chaplain right now in The Armed Forces of Ukraine)

Friday, 12 December

Please pray for the leaders in Kyrgyzstan. The political situation is difficult, and there are many restrictions for Christians. May God help them and give them wisdom in their ministry.

Saturday, 13 December

Please pray for the listeners from Kyrgyzstan. One Muslim family has been listening to our programs for a long time. As they listened, they began to understand that the Bible is the only source of true happiness. We ask you to pray for their hearts, that they — and others like them — may come to know Jesus Christ.

Sunday, 14 December

Pray for our remarkable young broadcasters, most under 30, who boldly share the Good News across Eurasia. Ask God to strengthen and protect them from spiritual attack as they serve.

Monday, 15 December

Please pray for the women's ministry in Moldova. Because of social problems, many women find themselves in helpless situations. Cristina, one of our bloggers, often encourages women and has an audience of hundreds of thousands of non-believing women. Recently, one of her followers wrote that Cristina is inspiring her to honor God in the way she lives. Please pray for these women to open their hearts to the Lord and for Him to heal the many broken families in Moldova.

Tuesday, 16 December

Pray for FEBC supporters to continue strengthening this ministry during this season of giving. Ask God to raise up new partners and prayer warriors who will stand with us in reaching the nations.

Wednesday, 17 December

Please pray for the children's ministry in Moldova. Many children and parents are responding and watching the programs. Recently, a woman from Moldova wrote that she has been subscribed for a long time and watches every program. She really enjoys them, and her children watch all the episodes and songs. There is also a large audience from Muslim countries. As Christmas approaches, many materials are being prepared. Please pray that God would touch hearts in a special way during this season!

Thursday, 18 December

Pray for FEBC listeners among Russia's minority peoples—Buryat, Komi, Tatar, and others—living in deep spiritual darkness. Ask God to bring His light and life into their communities, and that many will follow Christ.

Friday, 19 December

Please pray for the preparation of Christmas gatherings with young people in Kazakhstan and Moldova. May God touch the hearts of these young listeners this Christmas.

Saturday, 20 December

Please pray for the listeners from Russia, that the living Word of God would touch their hearts.

Please also pray for listeners like Andrey, who began watching the programs and, after a long period of conversation and prayer, started attending a church. “I am very grateful that you are helping me study the Bible,” Andrey said. Please continue to pray for him and for other listeners, that God's Word would work in their lives as well.

Sunday, 21 December

Please pray for the development of the bloggers' ministry in Russia. As Christmas approaches, the team is preparing a lot of media content. May God bring new people who will join and serve in the bloggers' team.

Monday, 22 December

Please pray for the team in Russia. The political situation is very difficult, and it is hard to openly preach the Gospel. May God give the team strength and also open the hearts of the country's authorities.

Tuesday, 23 December

Please pray for the “Embrace” Project in Ukraine. This project was created to bring hope and support to the families of military servicemen. Every week, Emma Sereda hosts a radio program with a large audience. They also hold in-person meetings where these families can find care, encouragement, and emotional support.

Wednesday, 24 December

Please also pray for a listener named Olena, who serves in the infantry of the Armed Forces of Ukraine and listens to our morning broadcasts every day. Some time ago, she wrote to us asking if we could send her Bibles. She is now giving those Bibles to her fellow soldiers and sharing the Gospel with them.

Thursday, 25 December

Pray that our children's programs touch thousands of young hearts—from suffering Ukraine to restrictive Turkmenistan and struggling Belarus. Fewer than 1% of children in this region receive any Christian teaching—pray that these messages of hope will reach them.

Friday, 26 December

Please pray for the listeners of the Bible program in Moldova. Many people have begun reading and studying the Bible together with us. One of the listeners, Anastasia, wrote: "Thank you for your programs. Because of you, I started reading the Bible and joyfully study it every day." Anastasia is a school teacher. Please pray for her — that God would work through her — and for all our listeners.

Saturday, 27 December

Please pray for the leaders of FEBC-Eurasia and their families. Lift up Ulanbek, Alexey, Oleg, Eduard, Igor, Ruslan, Umida, Iliia, Victor, and Rudi—asking God to give them wisdom, strength, and courage.

Sunday, 28 December

Pray for FEBC's young volunteers. Dozens of young people in Russia, Ukraine, Moldova, and Kazakhstan are multiplying the ministry online and helping with follow-up. Ask God to pour out His grace on their lives and strengthen them in their calling.

Monday, 29 December

Please pray for FEBC-Eurasia's follow-up workers. These evangelists are leading people to Christ in Moldova, Turkmenistan, Ukraine, and beyond. Pray that they would be filled daily with God's Spirit, wisdom, and courage.

Tuesday, 30 December

Please pray for the seminar in April focused on YOUTH EVANGELISM. We are planning to gather the most effective youth media evangelists from across Eurasia so they can pray for one another, learn together, share best practices, identify emerging trends, and explore how they can become even more effective in the next season of ministry.

Wednesday, 31 December

Please pray for every country in Eurasia and for the leaders of the FEBC ministry. May God give wisdom, new opportunities for ministry, and effective ways to spread the Gospel in the new year 2026, and may He strengthen all the teams.
