Please pray for the FEBC-Russia's prayer helpline. Many listeners are reaching out with serious spiritual issues and questions—and many are coming to know the Lord through these conversations and prayers. Please pray for our listeners to find true hope in the Lord and for the Lord to give our prayer evangelists wisdom and strength.

May 2

Please continue to pray for healing for Halyna, one of FEBC-Ukraine's prayer evangelists, as she battles cancer. Also pray for the father-in-law of Iryna Veselska. May God grant supernatural healing and work through the hands of the doctors. Please pray for the overall health of every member of FEBC-Ukraine's team.

May 3

Please pray for the youth ministry in Kazakhstan. Pray for a listener named Bagulan. After watching our videos, he began attending youth gatherings, and through this journey he made the decision to leave Islam and dedicate his life to Jesus. Please pray that God would strengthen Bagulan's faith, and also for many other young listeners across Kazakhstan who are on a similar path.

(Bagulan is the first on the right.)

May 4

Please pray for the youth ministry in Moldova. We have produced a series of inspiring faith testimonies from well-known individuals in Moldova. May these programs deeply touch the hearts of young people, giving them hope for a meaningful, flourishing life and for salvation.

May 5

Please pray for the Russian team's ministry to Muslims. We have recently translated a series of videos into the Tatar language. Please pray for the salvation of the Tatar's Muslim population.

May 6

Please pray for the women who attend support meetings for relatives of military personnel in Ukraine. Many of these women are hearing about Christ and His sacrifice for the very first time at these gatherings.

During one of the meetings, the women took part in a special activity: they wrote down all the pain they had experienced in their lives on dissolvable paper. Then, symbolically, they brought this pain to the Cross, surrendering it to God.

Please pray that the Lord would continue to touch their hearts, heal their wounds, and establish them firmly in faith.

May 7

Please pray for Bek and Zhalgas, young listeners from Kazakhstan. After watching our broadcasts, they came to meet with the host as atheists. During the conversation, they discussed many questions about God and have since started attending youth gatherings.

Please pray for these young men, that the Lord would reveal to them the truth of salvation through faith in Jesus Christ.

May 8

Please pray for a listener named Ivan from Ukraine. During a difficult season in his life, he started watching our programs. "I've seen so many of your videos," said Ivan, "and they have answered so many of my questions." Though he was an atheist, God's Word deeply touched his heart. Please pray for Ivan as he begins his journey towards Christ, and for our other listeners who watch our videos—that God's Word would be at work in every heart.

May 9

Please pray for Alexey and Ivan from Russia. They are scheduled to undergo surgeries soon—may the Lord protect them and grant them a quick recovery.

May 10

Please pray for the helpline ministry in Ukraine. Pray especially for the military personnel who often reach out while dealing with deep psychological trauma. Please also pray for one serviceman, Serhii, who has been struggling with suicidal thoughts. We shared with him about God and hope, and he is now searching for God and meaning. May the Lord grant him comfort and healing. Pray as well for all those who come to us with similar struggles.

May 11

Please pray for the upcoming blogger training meeting in Kyrgyzstan. Pray that through this gathering we would be able to inspire the participants and share practical tools with them. May the young people in Kyrgyzstan grow bold and unashamed to share the Gospel of Christ.

May 12

Please pray for the upcoming trips and meetings with our listeners in Kazakhstan. Our team is planning to meet with several people we have connected with through live streams and who have responded to our testimony videos. We ask you to pray for these journeys, for the health of our ministers, and for the hearts of those who are seeking truth and God.

May 13

Please pray for the development of children's ministry in Moldova. There are many new ideas we hope to implement, but we need more resources. May God grant us strength and wisdom in how to organize everything.

May 14

Please pray for the listeners who attend our gatherings in Russia. Recently, we held several such meetings and shared the Good News with them. May God's Word be at work and continue to grow in their hearts.

May 15

Please continue to pray for Nata Ivashchenko, a counselor with the Helpline in Ukraine, who is experiencing complications after childbirth. The doctors said that her life was hanging by a thread during delivery, and we are grateful to God that He preserved her.

Now it is important to pray that her course of treatment would be effective and as painless as possible for her.

May 16

Please pray for our listeners in Uzbekistan. Pray for Ulugbek, who heard the Gospel through us and has already attended church several times. We ask you to pray for his repentance, that God's Word would touch his heart, as well as the hearts of our other listeners.

May 17

Please pray for the strengthening of trust between the government and religious organizations in Kyrgyzstan.

We also ask you to pray that no initiatives contrary to biblical values would be adopted, including those related to issues such as polygamy.

May 18

Please pray for the development of the vlogger ministry across Eurasia. At one of the vlogging training seminars, a young woman from Tajikistan shared that she uses his Instagram videos to share the message with her friends.

Please pray that Gospel-centered content, including ours, would reach the hearts of many Muslims.

May 19

Please pray for the many women in Ukraine whose husbands are at war. The stress and loneliness are taking a serious toll on their mental and physical health.

A young pregnant woman recently reached out to us, struggling in her relationship with her husband and overwhelmed by anxiety and fear about the future. During our conversation, she turned to God and accepted Jesus into her heart.

Please pray for this woman, and for many others facing similar challenges—that they would find peace in God.

May 20

Please pray for a listener named Nurdaulet, who has recently started attending our youth gatherings. He shared that he had never met a Kazakh Christian before, but he is open to continuing to come to our meetings.

We ask you to pray for Nurdaulet and for his heart. He is a Muslim but open to hearing God's Word. May the Lord bless him and help him see the truth.

May 21

We ask you to pray for an upcoming meeting with a listener named Muhammad from Uzbekistan. He is very interested in Christianity and wants to meet with Christians to learn more.

May his search lead him to find our living Lord.

May 22

Please pray for the development of the vlogger ministry in Moldova. We are planning to expand the team and are in need of a vlogger manager as well as additional resources.

May God provide for these needs and grant wisdom to organize everything in the right way.

May 23

Please pray for the repentance of Umida's brother and father in Uzbekistan. May God show His mercy and open the hearts of her relatives.

Also, please pray for Umida's ministry and health—may God grant her strength and restoration.

May 24

Please pray for the youth ministries in Moldova. Many young people are currently struggling with anxiety, depression, and even suicidal thoughts.

Please pray for a young listener named Oksana, who is being troubled by these thoughts. We are sharing with her about hope and about our true Comforter. May God bring victory in this situation, and may Oksana accept Jesus into her heart.

May 25

Please pray for the team in Kazakhstan. Praise God, new opportunities and pathways for sharing the Good News are opening up. However, some of us are currently facing health challenges, and other team members are experiencing difficulties in their families. At times, it becomes hard to continue sharing the Gospel and serving people.

We ask for God's grace, strength, wisdom, patience, and love.

May 26

Please pray for the ministry in Tajikistan, a closed Muslim country. Pray that God would open the hearts of the authorities and keep our team safe so they can continue sharing the Good News.

May 27

Please pray for Oleg, a listener from Russia who is going through deep grief after losing his wife in a car accident. He struggled to find comfort and carried a heavy sense of guilt. After hearing about God's love, he began to pray.

We are now helping him find a church, as there is no church in his village. Please pray for Oleg, and for other listeners in small villages across Russia—that they would find God and a church community to support them in their spiritual growth.

May 28

Please pray for the families of the team in Uzbekistan. Many of their relatives have not yet accepted Jesus—please pray for their salvation. Also, pray for their children and spouses, that God would bless them and keep them safe.

May 29

Please pray for the team in Ukraine. In the midst of ongoing stress, exhaustion, and a heavy workload, many are experiencing illness.

We ask for your prayers for their healing—that God would restore their strength and renew them. May He sustain them as they continue to serve and bring hope to the wounded hearts of Ukraine.

May 30

Please pray for the upcoming seminars across Eurasia focused on developing the vlogger ministry. Experienced teams are planning trips to different countries to train and inspire many young people to share the Gospel. May God bless these journeys and all the planning involved, and keep everyone safe.

May 31

Please pray for the leadership teams across the countries of Eurasia. May God bless each nation, help them grow, strengthen their collaboration, and expand our ministry.
